

Quick Glance Timeline for Yale College Summer Fellowships 2013-2014

October – December	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Students should have conversations with faculty mentors and other relevant University staff about summer plans. Earlier the better! - Students should begin making any necessary contacts to secure internships, affiliations with NGOs, etc. - Students should explore the Student Grants Database (http://studentgrants.yale.edu) for fellowship deadlines, application instructions, eligibility requirements, etc.
October - January	Information sessions hosted by Fellowship Programs. Attend earlier in the year to avoid missing out on opportunities and to avoid losing preparation time in advance of deadlines.
October – February	Individual advising appointments at Fellowship Programs. Phone and Skype appointments are available for students off-campus and for select times during breaks. (Students must attend an information session for this academic year before scheduling an appointment with an adviser. Students who are abroad for the semester should contact Fellowship Programs about this requirement.)
November - February	Proposal writing workshops hosted by Fellowship Programs.
January	Last chance to ask for letters of recommendation for Yale College Summer Fellowships! (Students should ask faculty mentors for letters no later than three weeks in advance of the deadline.)
January – February	Students should begin the IRB approval process for research involving human subjects. (Check out www.yale.edu/hrpp/forms-templates/behavioral.html and click on “Student Projects” for more information.)
January - March	Most summer fellowship deadlines. The Yale College Summer Fellowships deadline through Fellowships Programs is February 19, 2014; most other offices around campus have deadlines very close to this date. See the Student Grants Database (http://studentgrants.yale.edu).
March – April	Interviews for some fellowship competitions (not all committees choose to conduct interviews as part of the selection process).
April	Notification of fellowship status.
April – May	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Distribution of checks (note: All winners must sign award agreements and show proof of IRB approval, if applicable, before receiving award monies.) - Mandatory pre-departure sessions for all winners

Details for all information sessions and workshops will be found on the Fellowship Programs events calendar and announced through our e-mail list. Visit www.yale.edu/fellowships to sign up for the list and to see our calendar.
